Enserva congratulates Premier Danielle Smith and United Conservative Party on provincial election win

Enserva looks forward to working closely with recently announced cabinet

CALGARY, AB (June 13, 2023) – Enserva, formerly Petroleum Services Association of Canada, would like to congratulate Premier Danielle Smith and the recent announcement of the party’s new cabinet. The Enserva team is looking forward to continuing its work with the provincial government to make meaningful and important changes within the energy industry.

“On behalf of Enserva and our Board, I would like to wish the newly appointed cabinet success within their new portfolios,” says Gurpreet Lail, President, and CEO, Enserva. “We look forward to working collaboratively with the elected government to pursue continued growth and development in the energy industry in the coming years.”

Enserva is pleased to have the opportunity to work closely with Minister of Energy and Minerals, Brian Jean; Minister of Environment and Protected Areas, Rebecca Schulz; Minister of Jobs, Economy and Trade, Matt Jones; Minister of Transportation and Economic Corridors, Devin Dreeshen; Minister of Advanced Education, Rajan Sawhney, and Minister of Education, Demetrios Nicolaidis.

“Our industry has a critical role to play in supporting Canada’s economic and social well-being, and we feel confident in the Government of Alberta’s ability to work toward these goals while supporting our members and those that work in the energy service, supply and manufacturing sector,” added Lail. “Canada relies on the energy industry, and it is important to have a government that supports the growth and success of our members and communities where we live and work.”
